

Nashville Business Journal - January 16, 2004
<http://nashville.bizjournals.com/nashville/stories/2004/01/12/daily37.html>

Nashville Business Journal

LATEST NEWS

January 16, 2004

Modern Red SchoolHouse signs contract with Arkansas school districts

Nashville-based nonprofit Modern Red SchoolHouse has contracted with 11 school districts in Arkansas to provide teacher training services beginning next month.

Since 1997, Modern Red SchoolHouse has worked with over 100 school districts in 30 states.

Modern Red SchoolHouse is a non-profit organization that helps schools strengthen teaching and learning and measure their progress against rigorous standards. The organization was founded 11 years ago by the Hudson Institute and was among the first "break the mold" school improvement models selected by the U.S. Department of Education and the New American Schools Development Corporation to improve public education nationwide.

© 2004 American City Business Journals Inc.

→ Web reprint information

All contents of this site © American City Business Journals Inc. All rights reserved.